

(a) Location-based persistence

The reference resolves to whatever `b.xmi` holds now.

Version 1 was overwritten at the same address.

(b) Content-addressed persistence

Pinned to version 1 until A is saved with a new reference.